

ST. JAMES CHURCH WILL BE MOVED

Committee Appointed to Select Suitable Lot South of Broad.

A LANDMARK OF RICHMOND

There Stuart's Funeral Occurred, Preceding His Burial in Hollywood.

A well-defined movement is on foot to move St. James Episcopal Church, now located at Fifth and Marshall Streets, to some central location south of Broad Street.

The matter has been thought of for a long time, and has been informally, but earnestly considered.

It was not until recently that definite steps were taken, which had the removal in view. A committee of leading members of the congregation has now been appointed for the purpose of selecting a lot south of Broad Street and securing an option thereon.

This must not be taken to mean that the committee will feel that it must hurry, nor is the church desirous of moving at once. It is, in fact, a part of the plan for the committee to take its time, keep its eyes open and when the opportunity occurs to get the right lot. It is not the wish of the church to go to the West End or far away from its present location, but many have come to feel that the growth of the congregation would be greater were the church located elsewhere. It is not the idea to go into the territory of St. Paul's or Grace, but somewhere on Grace or Franklin between these two.

Stuart Funeral There.

St. James Church is one of the landmarks of Richmond. Some of the best known people of the city are among its communicants. One of the chief events of historical interest associated with it is the funeral services there of General J. E. B. Stuart. With a small escort of Richmond gentlemen, in citizens' dress, the body was borne from this church after the funeral to the beautiful resting place in Hollywood overlooking the river.

ASK TO RECOMMIT.

Council Committee on Electricity Would Revise Ordinance.

The Council Committee on Electricity met last night, but disposed of little more than the mere routine. Chairman Satterfield presided. The committee informally discussed the ordinance now before the Council proposing to require a license for contracting electricians for examinations as to the fitness. The committee will ask the Council to recommit to this committee the ordinance in question, with the desire, it is understood, of adding a provision for the license and examination of journeymen electricians.

The purpose of the ordinance is to protect the local electricians from competition from the outside, the theory being that a firm elsewhere will prefer to employ local electricians rather than pay the license when they have but one contract in the city.

Mr. Gates presided at the committee. The report of Mr. Trafford, the special electrical expert, was now under consideration by a subcommittee of the Joint Committee on Finance and Electricity. The Water Committee has been asked to unite with them in considering the whole matter with reference to the certain and municipal electric plant. The question of the utilization of the old pump house site for an electric plant is now under consideration by the Water Committee and the joint committee, and their action is awaited.

May Be Judge Christian.

From the best information obtainable, ex-Judge David A. Christian, of Appomattox county, is likely to be named by State Superintendent Southall as second clerk to the Department of Public Instruction, to succeed Mr. John A. McGilvray, removed.

Mr. J. H. Johnson, of Accomac, an employee of the auditor's office, yesterday stated that he had made no application for this position, as reported. There are several other applicants, however. Judge Christian was suggested for the position some time ago, when Mr. McGilvray contemplated retiring, and is said to have influential endorsement.

GERMANY FIRM BUT AMicable

Refuses to Make Concessions, But Adopts Very Conciliatory Tone in Note.

(By Associated Press.)
BERLIN, June 27.—The German answer to the French note on the subject of the proposed Moroccan conference was sent to Paris yesterday. A high official near Chancellor Von Bülow informs the Associated Press that the German note, while perfectly amicable in form, insists upon a conference and also declines to comply with France's request that Germany outline beforehand the programme of the conference.

Conciliatory Tone.

PARIS, June 27.—Germany's reply to the French note on the subject of Morocco was presented during a conference between Prince Radolin, the German ambassador, and Premier Rouvier at the foreign office to-day. While most friendly in form and entirely lacking a peremptory tone, Germany's response none the less maintains the position that the Moroccan question must be regulated by a conference of the powers, without any agreement in advance limiting the scope of such a conference. This was accompanied by the presentation of Germany's general point of view in such an amicable spirit as to disarm the suspicion entertained concerning Germany's ulterior motives.

It is the general expectation that an agreement will be reached on the basis of a conference. Tension in official quarters has notably diminished, and this is only explainable on the theory that a conference will be accepted, as Germany's response does not make any notable concessions. However, the agreeable tone adopted by Germany and the entire absence of menace appear to create the most favorable impression. This is a most fortunate turn of affairs, for the response does not make any rupture anything offensive to the national pride might have inflamed public opinion beyond the point of control.

Richardson—Gould.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BALTIMORE, June 27.—The marriage of Miss Emily Gould to Dr. Edward H. Richardson of Farmville, Va., took place this evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Lawrence, Dixon Hill, Mount Washington. Rev. Dr. Charles H. Dox, pastor of Eutaw Place Baptist Church, performed the ceremony. Dr. Richardson has accepted the post of surgical house officer at the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

BOTH TAFT AND WALLACE SILENT

Secretary of War to Confer With President About Engineer's Resignation.

(By Associated Press.)
BOSTON, MASS., June 27.—Secretary of War William W. Taft arrived here this afternoon from New Haven, where he had been attending the Yale commencement exercises. The secretary will have a talk with President Roosevelt at Cambridge to-morrow, and it is understood that the resignation of Chief Engineer John F. Wallace, of the Panama Canal, who is also a member of the commission, will be discussed. The President did not see Secretary Taft to-day and has not yet been informed of the details of the discussion between the secretary and Mr. Wallace which led to the latter's resignation.

Conciliatory Tone.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 27.—John F. Wallace, chief engineer of the Panama Canal and a member of the commission, who has resigned both these positions to accept a $60,000 office with a New York corporation, was asked the cause of his resignation. He replied that he was in a delicate position in the matter and referred his question to Secretary Taft.

RYAN IN QUANDARY OVER SEABOARD PLAN

$10,000,000 of Stock Refuses to Come in and Will Resist Absorption.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, June 27.—With the announcement by the Ryan-Blair syndicate that eighty-three per cent of the stock of the Seaboard Air Line Railway has been deposited for exchange into certificates of the Seaboard Air Line Company, a peculiar situation has arisen. Ten millions of stock refused to come in and stands out demanding to know what Mr. Ryan purposes doing.

"The road is not bankrupt, nor in a receiver's hand, therefore, it cannot be reorganized in the usual way. If attempt is made to turn the entire property over to the new holding company the outstanding stockholders will go into court to claim their vested rights."

TRUSTEES HOLD LONG CONFERENCE

Cleveland, O'Brien and Westinghouse Hold Secret Meeting in New York.

ASTOR AND FORGAN RESIGN

Walter Wellman Tells of Ryan's Big Stake in Equitable Purchase.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 27.—Former President Grover Cleveland arrived from Princeton to-day and went direct to the Buckingham Hotel. There he went into conference with Justice Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse, his fellow trustees of the majority of stock in the Equitable Life Assurance Society. The meeting was held behind closed doors.

Chairman Morton announced to-day that John Jacob Astor, of this city, and J. B. Forgan, president of the First National Bank, of Chicago, had tendered their resignations as directors of the Equitable.

RYAN HAS STAKED ALL ON EQUITABLE

Walter Wellman Tells Some Secrets Learned From "Powerful Finance."

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHICAGO, ILL., June 27.—In his third letter to the Record-Herald on the Equitable situation, Walter Wellman says: "Thomas F. Ryan is the greatest power in town. He stands to make or break on this Equitable deal. It is a loss up as to which it is to be."

This was the statement made to me by one of the most powerful leaders of the financial world—a man who knows Mr. Ryan and his career and character thoroughly, and to whom the inner secrets of the financial district are an open book.

Mr. Ryan's plans and hopes are thoroughly understood. What he aimed to do in this venture was to raise himself from second or third place in the world on finance to the very first rank. He wanted to teach the small but alluring might on which stand the high and mighty, the great and the powerful. He wanted to show the world that a man like him, a man who knows Mr. Ryan and his career and character thoroughly, and to whom the inner secrets of the financial district are an open book.

FOREIGN ROADS AND AMERICAN

President George W. Stevens, of The Chesapeake and Ohio, Compares Them.

BOTH HAVE ADVANTAGES

Interesting Observations By Mr. Stevens on His Tour of European Lands.

Mr. George W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, who, with his family, having been in Europe for two or three months, reached the city yesterday, and with his accustomed industry was at his office hard at work all the afternoon. When a reporter called he was busy gathering up the threads of the directorate of the railway system and its progress and achievements during his absence.

That Mr. Stevens was delighted with his trip was apparent, even had he not frankly admitted the fact. He is a thorough, practical railway man, and a thoroughly and inevitably everything relating to the foreign railway management and operation interested him no less than the great cities and ancient civilization of Europe. His estimation of continental and British railways were not pessimistic, nor were they to the disadvantage of American lines. "We both have much to learn from each other," said Mr. Stevens. "In some respects they have the advantage of us, and in other respects we have the better of them. On the whole, however, I think that there is a great difference between railway operation and management here and in Europe, certainly not between the British and American lines."

SPENDS DAY WITH OLD CLASSMATES

President Roosevelt Given Rousing Reception By Harvard Alumni and Students.

President, Nevertheless, Insisted That Hood of Carriage Be Lowered.

(By Associated Press.)
CAMBRIDGE, MASS., June 27.—Joining with his former classmates in celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the graduation of their class from Harvard to-day, President Roosevelt returned to his alma mater, not as the chief magistrate of the nation, but as a private citizen, and a loyal Harvard alumnus. Nevertheless, students, alumni and the citizens of Cambridge, united in giving him a hearty greeting as he drove through the streets of the university city.

The President's day was a busy one. During the forenoon President Roosevelt visited the rooms of the Alpha Delta Phi Society, the Harvard stadium and the Chestnut Hill residence of George C. Lee, the father of the President's first wife. The President was then driven to the Oakley Country Club, in Watertown, where the class of '82 held an informal luncheon and luncheon was served.

Returning from the Oakley Country Club the President was driven to the rooms of the Porcelain Club, an organization of Harvard students, where he stayed a hour, and then to the Hotel Somerset, in Boston, for the banquet of the class of '82.

It was late in the evening when the party returned to Cambridge. The President, however, insisted that the hood of the carriage be lowered in order that the people who had gathered to see him might not be disappointed, and though the rain fell heavily the President rode through it apparently not in the least discouraged.

Accompanied by a secret service officer and a squad of mounted policemen, the President returned to the Hotel Somerset, in Boston, for the banquet of the class of '82.
